Furthermore, the manuscript will be sent to at least one anonymous referee for contribution, originality, relevance, and presentation (double-blind peer review). meeting. Afterward, the Editor will send the final decision to the corresponding author.

Utilizing feedback from the peer review process, the Editor will make a final decision. The review process will take approximately 1 to 2 weeks. Decisions categories include:

1. Reject - Rejected manuscripts will not be published, and authors will not have the opportunity to resubmit a revised version of the paper to the 2nd ISAMME 2020.
2. Resubmit for Review - The submission needs to be re-worked, but with significant changes, it may be accepted. However, it will require a second round of review.
3. Accept with Revisions - Manuscripts receiving an accept-pending-revisions decision would be presented in the 2nd ISAMME 2020 under the condition that minor/major modifications are made. Revisions will be reviewed by an editor to ensure necessary updates are made before publication.
4. Accept - Accepted manuscripts will be published in the current form, with no further modifications required. But before that, it must still be presented in the 2nd ISAMME 2020.

The reviewers' and editors' suggestions would be conveyed to the author, who will then have an opportunity to revise the paper. A manuscript returned to an author for revision can be held for a maximum of two weeks. Finally, after accepted, all articles that are declared accepted by the Editor, must be presented at the 2nd ISAMME 2020. The publication will then be proposed to the Journal of Physics: Conference Series published by IOP Publishing.
